

MANY ESTATES FOR PROBATE

That of the Late Helen Kelsey
Will Go to Son Now in New Mexico.

The estate of Helen E. Kelsey, the schoolteacher who committed suicide about two months ago, is before the circuit court, and letters of administration have been issued to Henry E. Kelsey of Maui, her brother.

Mrs. Kelsey's estate is valued at $2200, and consists chiefly of a lot in Claremont, California, and one in Palolo valley, besides her personal effects. The brother is named in the will as executor, and the devisee and legatee is Theodore Kelsey, her only son, who is at present in a military school at Roswell, New Mexico. He was going to that place at the time his mother shot herself on the porch of the Cental Grammar School.

Another schoolteacher's estate, that of Louisa Browncombe Brickwood, who died lately, has also come before the probate court. The petition for letters of administration is presented by Walter M. Giffard, he and Henry Holmes being named executors in the will. Her mother, Louise Brickwood, is named as sole heir to the estate, which is valued at $12,500.

Ahlborn Estate.

Probate matters were about all in which new proceedings were instituted in court. The estate of Carl H. A. L. Ahlborn again came before the court for the appointment of a temporary administrator.

The petition, which was presented by F. Klamp, resulted in the appointment of W. F. Pfotenbauer to that position. The action was made necessary by reason of interest on some notes coming due and also dividends on some stock. The value of the estate is placed at $200,000, and represents that portion of it which is in Hawaii. Ahlborn was a resident of and died in Germany, where his largest interests lie.

Accounts Approved.

Another probate matter to be acted upon was the thirteenth annual accounts of the trustees of the Bernice P. Bishop Museum, which were favorably reported by Job Batchelor. This is practically all that is necessary, as the approval of the judge is based on that of the master in the case.

New Citizens.

There are three new citizens in Hawaii today, and King Edward of Great Britain is minus three subjects by the same token. Samuel Henry Randolph Fursey was the first to take the oath of allegiance to Uncle Sam, and he was followed by John Richardson and George McIntosh.

Conspiracy.

For attempting to buy a woman at the really cheap price of $100, Hoshi, a Japanese, yesterday went on trial in the United States district court. He was originally codefendant with two others, who both pleaded guilty yesterday, leaving their companion to face the music. Those who pleaded guilty were Hsikiichi Yoki and Hikataro Kodama. One is the father of the woman, Matsuo Kodama, who was to be sold, and the other the husband.

They had it all nicely framed up and the sale was almost panned when the authorities stuck an inquisitive nose into the proceedings and called a halt. The husband would have become the "grantor" and Hoshi the "grantee" had the deal gone through.

To Highest Court.

Foiled in her attempts to secure a release for her husband from the insane asylum, Mrs. Mary Atcherley yesterday took steps to carry her case to the United States Supreme Court, before which exalted body it will appear in due time. The case goes up on a writ of error from the decree of the territorial supreme court, and she will claim that her husband has not had due process of law, and several other things.

She still maintains her charges of conspiracy on the part of the attorney-general, Mott-Smith, and half the doctors of the Territory, including Doctor Peterson of the insane asylum. She claims that when the board of insanity last went to examine Doctor Atcherley in his room at the last named institution, Doctor Peterson removed the pills of belladonna she claims is being fed to him in the guise of opium. They do this, she says, to drive him crazy, that being the tendency of the drug, and so place him out of the way in pursuance of their " nefarious schemes."

Courthouse Notes.

By an order of Judge Robinson, issued in the circuit court yesterday, Jacob S. Bailey will have to pay his wife, Maria Bailey, $75 a month pending the decision in the divorce suit brought against him by her.

Alice Haynes has commenced suit for divorce against Clarence E. Haynes on the grounds of failure to provide. Their only son, Clarence, is now in the custody of the father.

Jusaburo Yokata has filed a similar suit against his wife, Kiku Yokata, on the grounds of wilful desertion.

George "Phoney" Davis, convicted in the district court of selling liquor without a license, has appealed to the circuit court to save himself the trouble of paying that $150 fine.

S. M. Damon and A. W. T. Bottomley, as Bishop & Co., have filed an amended demurrer to the suit in equity brought against them by C. R. Collins.

Nora H. McGuire has appealed from the decision of the district judge, who rendered a decision in favor of Clem C. Quinn, defendant in a suit brought by her. The trouble is over a life insurance policy which Quinn is holding in his professional capacity, and Mrs. McGuire wants it back.

Letters of administration have been issued to Henry H. Williams, a creditor of the late George Smith. The estate is valued at but $100.

Mongi, pleading guilty to a charge of larceny in the circuit court, was yesterday given a suspended sentence of thirteen months by Judge De Bolt.

LONGER SHED ON ALAKEA WHARF

The Alakea-street wharf is growing larger as time passes. Tenders are now being advertised for to construct another hundred feet onto the already long shed. This time it will be but one story, and this latest addition will be added, this contract having already been awarded to J. Ouderkirck. The total addition will be one hundred and sixty feet. It is expected that Ouderkirck will get the contract for the last 100 feet, as he has the men and material already on the spot, and it will be hard to underbid him.

Another matter that is being taken up by Marston Campbell, superintendent of public works, is the construction of eight new cottages, at the Kalihi receiving station. These cottages will be built out of funds appropriated from those allowed the board of health, the plans having been carefully gone over by that body. Tenders are now being advertised for.

SIX SMUGGLERS

ARE ARRESTED

this, no other source of supply of the information which the officials suddenly became possessed of, seems more likely than him.

Breckons and Stackable were in session all day yesterday in the office of the former and over a dozen witnesses came before them, each to be minutely examined. All or nearly all were Hawaiians and appeared to be stevedores also. Those arrested were stevedores and it seems from this that stevedores figure prominently in the "underground railroad" by which opium leaves the ship and enters illegally the Territory of Hawaii.

Now that the first links have been discovered, it is thought about the court house that there will soon be uncovered the gigantic chain of procedure that has baffled the authorities for some time. That the present sudden attack on the smugglers is not the first attempt to break through this system is proven by the thorough search of Lee Let's store a few months ago by Breckons, Stackable and Hendry. Also previous to the day that raid was effected, Breckons and Hendry went to Aiea and arrested a Chinaman who, they stated, was illegally in the country. However that might be, it was generally thought that he had been arrested as being connected with the supposed opium smuggling.

When Lee Let's store was being raided, there were inspectors galore stationed all about the house with the three heads of departments flitting about. They explained that it was merely an invoice of goods not checked up on the wharf and yet this "invoice" resulted in suits totaling forty thousand dollars being filed against Breckons, Stackable and the inspectors.

In connection with these suits, it might be stated that Lee Let yesterday filed in the circuit court, motions to have them set on the calendar and for hearing, evidently wanting them rushed through before any more publicity was given to the opium smuggling game.

This previous attempt to locate the center of smuggling in Honolulu calls forth another theory to the effect that the present sudden arrests were not the result of any confession on the part of Kekahuna but that the men arrested had been watched by the officials right along and pulled in as soon as a starting place was secured. Kekahuna, in this event, acts as the starting place.

However, it is probably that in a few days the whole story of the scheme will come to light and if whispers are correct there will be prominent noses as well as some of our leading Chinese citizens mixed up in it.
